

Cleveland firm creates environmental investment trust

May 15 -- A Cleveland company says it is creating the first recycling and waste management unit investment trust to capitalize on the growing interest in environmentally friendly practices.

Pension Builders & Consultants said its Global Recycling & Waste Management Portfolio began accepting deposits on May 7.

"By investing in the Pension Builders Global Recycling & Waste Management Portfolio, investors may not only be contributing to a cleaner environment, but may participate in the growth and earnings of companies dedicated to environmentally-friendly practices," said Darrin Farrow, president of Pension Builders & Consultants, an investment advisor.
