

Landfill liner work

An aerial view looking northeast of the Park County Regional Landfill south of Cody shows new lined cells under construction (upper right). Liners should be installed by July and will wrap from the bright area in the top center of the photo along the sidewalls to the right. At bottom left is contractor Weeden Construction's staging area with piles of metal and tires. The access and main portion of the landfill are to the right of this view. Photo by Lee Hermann, Cody Enterprise