

Manager to speak on irrigation in the Basin

Bryant Startin, Shoshone Irrigation District manager, will present a program on the history and operations of the Shoshone Irrigation Project today. The talk is at Fagerberg Lecture Hall at Northwest College and begins at 7 p.m.

Bryant has worked in various capacities for the Shoshone Irrigation District since 1985.

The program is sponsored by the Powell Centennial Committee. It is the fourth of 12 lectures for the Powell Centennial Speakers Series, which are being held on the third Tuesday of each month this year.

Coming programs will include a comparison of William F. Cody and John Wesley Powell by Robert Bonner and a history of the Heart Mountain Relocation Center by LaDonna Zall.

Admission is a donation of any amount to the Powell Centennial Committee. Donations to the Powell Centennial Fund may also be sent to the Powell Centennial Committee c/o the city of Powell. Proceeds will fund upcoming events to celebrate Powell's centennial year in 2009.

For further information, contact Jeremy Johnston at 754-6008 or by e-mail at jeremy.johnston@northwestcollege.edu.