

Poll shows 41% of respondents recycled electronics

Oct. 13 -- A new Harris Interactive poll on a wide range of environmental issues indicates that 41% of the respondents recycled electronics during the past year.

The poll, conducted between July 7 and Sept. 8, included 3,110 adults and was conducted online.

Most of those taking part in the survey also have take steps to limit their use of paper and electricity, Harris said.

A total of 17% said they make their own compost, and 68% said they recycle.
