

WARWS Specialist participates in solid waste industry conference

Kathy Weinsaft, WARWS Technical Assistance and Training Specialist will be attending the Solid Waste Association of North America (SWANA) WASTECON conference in Reno, NV this week.

This three-day show combines an extensive technical program with sessions about pertinent issues facing the industry. SWANA's cutting-edge training courses, an expansive exhibition floor, and great networking events await participants at the 45th annual conference.

Kathy will bring her nearly 20+ years of solid waste planning experience to the conference and will be participating in a training session on Solid Waste Management in Rural Areas.

Kathy is the only Solid Waste Professional from Wyoming asked to participate in the training sessions. Prior to joining WARWS, Kathy served as the Solid Waste Planning Director for the State of Missouri and is regarded as a leader in rural management techniques.

For over 40 years, the Solid Waste Association of North America has been the leading professional association in the solid waste field. SWANA serves over 7,600 members throughout North America, and thousands more with conferences, certifications, publications, and technical training courses. The mission of SWANA is, "to advance the practice of environmentally and economically sound management of municipal solid waste."
